Set high to catch the sea breezes, this 100+ year old farm house just oozes character. With high ceilings throughout, 3 huge bedrooms, and an open plan living area which opens onto the wide, north facing full length back verandah and the inground, solar heated salt water pool, this classic homestead has found the right balance between character and comfort. Also included is an additional separate office or teenagers retreat, undercover parking for 3 cars and uninterrupted views out over the valley. The 30 acres of land is gently sloping and includes 3 dams. Previously used for agriculture, this totally usable land would lend itself to almost any use, whether it be running horses or a market garden.
